SATURDAY ..... SEPTEMBER 3, 1910

He would be the finer gentleman that should leave the world without having tasted of lying, or pretense of any kind, or of wantonness or conceit.—Marcus Aurelius.

Andrews, in the interview claiming to be authorized by him, does the usual stunt of laying it all onto the other fellow.

Vote at the primary—if you are a Republican. Don't let the votes of Home Rulers and Democrats elect all the delegates to the conventions.

Crooked work in connection with the Manoa precinct ballots is aided in the office that has been howling in such loud tones about decent politics.

No one expected that Mr. Barnes of New York liked Theodore Roosevelt and the insurgent movement generally. No one cares whether he does or not.

Somewhere down in Massachusetts there is a man called Taft who is presumably still President of the United States, though very little has been heard of him in the dispatches of late.

Some chauffeurs are under the impression that tooting the auto horn frees them from all further responsibility. Other chauffeurs think that the tooting of their auto horns simply sounds the warning "If you don't want to get killed, beat it."

"I am not familiar with everything that occurred in the (Manoa) precinct prior to my arrival therein, but since my return I am not aware that either I, myself, or the persons with whom I have associated have done anything that would deserve criticism."—Lorin Andrews.

Listen to the chatter of the innocent child.

THE DUTY OF TOMORROW.

At the last moment previous to the opening of the primary polls the reputable Republican voters of the Manoa precinct find themselves face to face with their old enemy, the common enemy of the common good,—a political trick.

This trick, like others that have gone before, is the work of the so-called regulars or what are generally known as the Andrews-Buffandeau crowd.

Having treated the public to several incidents properly coming under the head of a political disgrace, these people appear to believe that a few more can't do any harm. And besides this political trick may help them to pull through some portion of their ticket.

What the result of the stuffed roll and the tricks and the treachery will be, is pretty well known but the definite figures must await the counting of the votes.

What the honest, fair-dealing citizens in the Republican party, are to do is a matter that is of most immediate importance. On their action or inaction will depend the fate of the Republican party in the coming election.

Regardless of party feeling, party affiliation and party regularity, the average citizen of this community and of every other stands primarily for straightforward methods and a square deal.

It must be apparent to every intelligent person that a party which fails to properly guard itself against a repetition of the irregularities, and political chicanery, that have been going on in the Manoa precinct at the instigation and under the protection of the Andrews-Buffandeau crowd, must lose the confidence of the average citizen.

The Republican party cannot live as a power for political decency, if the members of the organization look upon such work as has marked Manoa as merely one of the incidents of a warm political fight and deserving no further attention from them.

The spirit and the letter of the party rules have been violated and the student of political crookedness has found many loopholes for cheating the honest voter. The rules provide no penalty, and the response of the manipulator is, What are you going to do about it?

To retain public confidence the party must vote the tricky politicians out of any share in the party control, and follow this up with a thorough canvass of the party rules so as to bring to bear every possible safeguard for protecting the integrity of the primary ballot.

Today the voters have it in their hands to record their votes for honest methods and convention delegates who stand for honest politics.

Unfortunately there is no assurance of honest balloting or an honest count in the Manoa precinct today in so far as the precinct organization officers are concerned. There is every reason to believe however, that the sentiment against the Andrews-Buffandeau scheme is so strong that they will be overwhelmed, tricks and all.

Tomorrow, the duty of the Republican party will be put the rules in such shape that the political jobbers will have the least possible chance for success, and the primaries will become something better than a farce, which they now are every time honest men are pitted against tricksters.

FEDERAL SITE BUSINESS.

Isn't it about time to get down to business on the Federal building site?

The latest thing to appear on the horizon is a proposal to have the Federal offices in two buildings. This is someone's individual scheme for going the longest way around to reach a given point.

This town has had enough of individual schemes the upshot of which is to delay the construction of the Federal building. The people would like to have a few community ideas worked out and a little work done for the welfare of the people as a whole.

The Federal officials have but one thing to do as a consequence of the most recent action of Congress.

They must learn whether the property for the extension of the site can be purchased at the figure named by Congress. If this cannot be done, these officials should proceed at once to condemn the property. Should the condemnation proceedings not bring the desired result, the subject is then up to Congress.

Honolulu has been kicked about by pompous Territorial officials until it is quite tired.

The Federal officials should possess enough sense to do better.

Let the business of the people be done promptly. Otherwise the Federal building for the city of Honolulu will await the coming of the next century and a vacant lot filled with weeds will be a monument to the folly of the officials trying to force their ideas down the throats of an unwilling and disgusted populace.

HAWAII'S PUBLIC LAND INCOME.

The American nation devotes the income from its public lands to education.

Every State and Territory of the mainland gives the largest share of the income from its public lands to education.

The Land Commissioner of the Territory of Hawaii interprets the amended Organic Act to mean that the income from the public lands of this Territory shall be given over to him to be expended as he thinks best in what he calls the development of homesteads.

Make no mistake. Any such use of the income from the public lands of this Territory will result in a further amendment of the Organic Act, and the right to preserve the public land as a heritage for the youth of the islands will not end by any means

RAPID TRANSIT SMALL CHANGE.

Governor Frear is soon to pass upon the plea of the Rapid Transit that the street car conductors shall not be forced to change five or ten-dollar gold pieces when given them by passengers paying a fare.

It is perhaps better to put it that the Rapid Transit company has asked the Governor to expel from the cars every man, woman and child who happens to forget to get small change before going to the street car. In other shall be changed, and that order supported by the mandate of the Territorial government representing the people.

The request of the Rapid Transit Company is one that should not be granted.

The Territorial government is supposed to represent the public in this matter, and if a vote were taken of those who patronize the cars, how many could you expect to favor the no-change order.

MOVING PICTURES PUT UNDER THE LAW IN ITALY

ROME, August 12.—Objectionable moving picture shows are to be suppressed by law in Italy for the reason that the government believes that they are the main cause of the terrible increase in juvenile crime.

According to the new law which the government has framed, all films must be submitted before exhibition to local committees for approval. After approval the films will be taxed unless they are of an educational character, representing natural scenery, cities, monuments, sports, industries, episodes in natural life, etc.

Managers who infringe the law may be fined up to $60 for the first offense. For second and other offenses the penalty will be much heavier. All objectionable films will be destroyed. No children under thirteen will be allowed to witness the entertainments unless their parents are with them.

It takes a good cook to fix up anything to eat so a man can't tell what it is.

SEATTLE MURDERED CAPTURED AFTER FIVE YEARS' CHASE

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26.—After a pursuit covering five years, John Joseph Flay, a Syrian, is about to be returned to Seattle to stand trial for the murder in that city of Leta Nicholas, a 17-year-old girl of his own race. Flay will leave Mexico on Monday in custody of a deputy sheriff. Flay fled to Mexico after the crime was committed in 1905. He was recognized recently in Tlaningo, State of Hidalgo, by a Greek dealer in Syrian goods, who notified the Seattle authorities.

Cablegram

San Francisco, Aug 30, 1910

Address: Jordan's, Honolulu

Purchased entire stock, fifty-eight cents on dollar. Returning Wilhelmina, CURTIS

THE FOREGOING CABLE received by us means much to the ladies of this city. Our Mr. Curtis left in a hurried trip to the mainland to personally examine a large stock of merchandise that was intended for a Coast House, and through reasons over which they had no control the delivery was not made.

The goods were offered to us at a big discount, and, knowing the character of the merchandise we were prepared to buy the line at more money than the cable tells us the deal was closed for.

The stock comprises

Ready-to-Wear Suits and Dresses

for Women and Children

Coats and Skirts

in Linen, Silks, and Cravenette and a Big Assortment of

General Dry Goods

In short it is the greatest purchase so far as extraordinary values are concerned that has ever been placed before the public of Honolulu. We will hold a the date of which will be announced when Mr. Curtis returns.

GREAT QUICK CLEARING SALE
